

James Buchanan Pennsylvania's Only President

By Leighton C. Taylor

SECOND INSTALLMENT

THERE is rarely to be met in literature a more interesting and absorbing account of a wise man's care for a woman's education, manners, deportment, and character than that set forth in Mr. Buchanan's charming letters to his niece Harriet Lane. They began when she was a school girl, and continued when she filled the place of a daughter and hostess, gracefully adorning the high public stations to which he eventually was called, and was the companion and friend of his declining years.

Before me are a number of letters from the correspondence between Mr. Buchanan and his niece. I can give here but a few excerpts—enough to reveal a side of Mr. Buchanan's character of which the public knows little.

First, I think a glimpse of his domestic circle during his congressional service will be interesting. In Washington he lived in hotels, but during the recess of Congress he resided in Lancaster. His family consisted of a housekeeper, Miss Parker, always called "Miss Hetty"; a nephew, James Buchanan Henry; his niece, Harriet Lane (already referred to), and his servants.

Faithful Guardian To His Wards

His nephew writes: "No father could have bestowed more faithful and judicious care upon his own children than this stern but devoted bachelor uncle of ours bestowed upon us. While I was away at school, when 11 years old, he required me to write to him twice a month with great exactitude; and to each boyish letter he would write a prompt reply carefully but kindly criticizing every part of it, and if I had been careless in penmanship or spelling he would give me sharp reproof, which coming from my youthful hero, made an impression which remains with me to this day."

In a letter to his school-girl niece, Miss Lane, Mr. Buchanan wrote: "Your letter afforded me great pleasure. There is no wish nearer my heart than that you should become an amiable, intelligent woman; and I am rejoiced to learn that you still continue at the head of your class. Furthermore, you can render yourself very dear to me by your conduct. Education and accomplishments are very important, but they sink into insignificance when compared with the proper government of the heart and temper. . . . What a long list of studies you are engaged upon! The number seems too great for any common intellect, but you apparently manage them all without difficulty."

"As mythology and history seem to be your favorites I shall expect, when we meet, that you will have all the gods and heroes of Greece and Rome at your fingers' ends. At a dinner table here in Washington recently a wager was made that no person at the table could name all the Muses, and the wager was won. Had you been one of the company, the result doubtless would have been different. Attend diligently to your studies, but, above all, govern your heart and your conduct."

Care Of Niece Happily Rewarded

In another letter from Mr. Buchanan to his niece, written from Washington, he says among other things:

"Washington now begins to be gay, but I rarely go to evening parties. I have had a word of such amusement and have enjoyed it. Yours is just commencing, and I hope it may be a happy one. And now I must give you a word of caution. You should never marry a man to whom you are not sincerely attached, nor any person who is not able to afford you decent and immediate support. In my experience, I have witnessed the long years of patient misery and dependence which many fine women have endured from rushing precipitately into matrimony without sufficient reflection. Look ahead, consider the future, and act wisely in this particular."

In 1866 Mr. Buchanan had the pleasure of seeing his niece, Miss Lane, happily married to Mr. Henry E. Johnston, a prominent and well-to-do citizen of Baltimore.

Due regret for brevity precludes quoting at length from Mr. Buchanan's letters to his niece, but I can assure my readers that they compare favorably with many well-known instances of tender care for a young relative. For example, Lord Eldon's letters to his grandson; and Lord Chatham's letters to his son, William. To the writer, Mr. Buchanan's letters to his niece are especially interesting in that they were to a young girl whom Providence had placed in the care of an unmarried uncle intensely occupied with the pursuits and interests of a statesman.

Begins Distinguished Congressional Career

Years afterward, in London, talking with an intimate friend much younger than he, Mr. Buchanan said:

"I never intended to engage in politics, but meant to follow my profession strictly. My prospects and plans were all changed, however, by a sad event which happened at Lancaster, Pa., when I was a young man. As a distraction from my grief, and because I saw that through a political following I could secure the friends I then needed, I accepted a nomination."

As the reader, no doubt, has already surmised, Mr. Buchanan was elected to Congress in the fall of 1820 from the District composed of Lancaster, York and Dauphin Counties, taking his seat on December 3, 1821. He immediately took rank among the most distinguished Members of the House. He was always in his seat, and participated in all of the important debates. His first set speech was upon a bill making appropriations for the military, which he favored. He so ably defended the measure, proposed by the Secretary of the Treasury, that "The National Intelligencer" departed from its usual custom and ran a verbatim report of the speech. This first highly commended congressional effort gave assurance of the future distinction that awaited Mr. Buchanan.

Records disclose that he was extraordinarily active during his first session. Nothing that affected his constituents was allowed to pass unnoticed. He seems to have entertained from the start the idea that he was strictly the servant of the people who had elected him, and that in his capacity as their Representative he was bound to attend, first of all, to the concerns of his immediate District. While he was strict in the expenditure of the public's money he was liberal where patriotism made the demand. When some members found fault with a bill authorizing relief of soldiers disabled in the Revolutionary War, Mr. Buchanan met the opposition with the remark that the sum the bill proposed to appropriate was a scanty pittance for the war-worn soldier, and that he was altogether averse to opposing a matter so trifling where the demands of patriotism were so imperative.

Conducts Judicial Impeachment Trial

One of the most important proceedings during Mr. Buchanan's congressional service was none other than the impeachment of a United States Judge from a Missouri District.

No other matter assumes the same importance before a legislative body as does an impeachment trial. Mr. Buchanan, at the beginning of the session, had succeeded Daniel Webster as Chairman of the House Judiciary Committee, and no member was better qualified for the place than he. In line with this appointment Mr. Buchanan was made Chairman of the Committee of Managers on the part of the House to conduct the impeachment proceedings. We cannot do more here than call attention to this all-important trial, and to state that in his closing argument for the prosecution Mr. Buchanan made a most notable, eloquent and logical argument, attracting wide attention and acclaim.

After 10 years of honorable and outstanding service in the House (March 4, 1821-March 3, 1831) Mr. Buchanan voluntarily retired from Congress.

Appointed Minister To Russia

Ten years in the popular branch of Congress necessarily affords a man a thorough acquaintance with the details and mechanics of legislation, and if he be an individual of even ordinary ability he will be qualified for greater responsibilities. But if he unite with these qualifications a vigorous mind, an originality of conception, and an independence of thought (all of which Mr. Buchanan possessed) we may conclude that such a man is destined to occupy something beyond a circumscribed sphere and reputation.

During his entire 10 years in the House of Representatives we find him upon all occasions battling for the cause of equal rights, the upholder of democratic doctrine, and the enemy of those who would turn the government into a machine for plundering instead of protecting the people.

Shortly after Mr. Buchanan's voluntary retirement from Congress he was honored by President Jackson with the appointment of Minister to Russia. How he filled this distinguished position the records of the State Department show. His diplomatic service was marked by his customary scrupulous regard for fidelity, and a careful concern for the best interests of his country. His successor at St. Petersburg, Judge Wilkins, formerly Secretary of War and United States Senator, had this to say: "St. Petersburg was full of admiration for the American statesman. So effectively did he perform his duties there, so effectually did he endear this government to Russia, and so skillfully and intelligently did he arrange the commercial and diplomatic concerns of the two countries, that he left nothing in the world for me to do but to state that I was his humble successor. He had preoccupied the ground and filled the demands of his government."

The observance of the 92nd anniversary of the Battle of Gettysburg, sponsored by the Gettysburg Fire Department, opened today. The annual carnival at the Gettysburg Recreation Field begins this evening.

Activities are expected to start about 7 o'clock. Charles W. Culp Jr., head of the fire police, has asked the fire police and Boy Scouts to be at the field at 6 o'clock.

Entertainment, games, food, displays, exhibitions, children's contests, rides and fireworks are scheduled each of the five nights extending through Saturday night.

Fireworks will be presented each evening and Menges said that "one of the nights, just which night we don't as yet know, there will be an unusual fireworks display such as we have never before attempted in connection with the carnival."

Thursday night the annual anniversary parade will be held, starting at 7 o'clock. $1,000 in prizes will be awarded and approximately 40 units will take part in the four-division procession, according to Fire Chief Donald W. McSherry, general parade chairman.

225 Patients Evacuated When Fire Breaks Nearby

PITTSBURGH (AP)—Fire early today swept 10 stories of the 15-million dollar Pitt Schools of Health & Professions Building under construction adjacent to Presbyterian Hospital.

Several explosions, apparently from gasoline, oil or some other highly inflammable substances—rocked the structure. Six alarms were sounded.

All 225 patients of Presbyterian Hospital were evacuated to the adjoining Women's and Eye & Ear Hospitals. None of the patients was injured or affected by the heavy smoke.

Flames shot through 10 stories of planking and quickly engulfed the structure. The first alarm was sounded by nurses at Western Psychiatric Institute.

Flaming planks, falling from upper stories, prevented firemen

COUNTY SCHOOL DISTRICTS SEEK NEW JOINTURES

Paradise Twp., York County, is planning to leave the Conewago Joint School System, at least on the elementary level, and East Berlin would like to join the Lower Adams (New Oxford) Jointure.

Those were two problems brought before the Adams County school board at a long meeting at the court house Monday night.

The county board reached no solutions. Thursday night Paradise officials plan to meet with the other Conewago jointure board members at East Berlin. County Superintendent of Schools H. Edgar Riegle will also attend.

East Berlin board members told the county board they had already applied to Lower Adams for admission to the New Oxford system, but that no action can be taken until the county board approves. They also said that East Berlin and Reading Twp. would prefer, basically, to keep its own high school, but in lieu of that would prefer to be joined with New Oxford, or if that is impossible, would prefer to have one administrative unit covering three present jointures, Orth Adams, in the York Springs area; Conewago, in the East Berlin area, and Lower Adams, the New Oxford area.

Plan Two Jointures

At present the new county plan, approved by the state several months ago, calls for the Lower Adams, North Adams and Conewago districts to be placed in two joint districts. In effect that plan would put Abbottstown with New Oxford and East Berlin and York Springs areas together, with a new high school to be built at some central location, probably in the Round Hill area, and convert present high schools at East Berlin and York Springs into elementary centers.

The board decided not to take any action until it had checked the other districts now in the three joint districts.

Original Plan

Originally the county board had submitted to the townships and boroughs involved four sets of plans. One called for all three districts to be joined into one district. The other called for the three to be divided into two districts. The other plans called for mergers rather than jointures. The districts voted 14 to 2 in favor of two jointures and that plan was incorporated by the county board into the county plan and was approved by the state. Because of that vote, Luther Lady, president of the board, held, and the others agreed, the county board could not change the plan without consulting the other 14 districts and getting their opinion again. The board felt that the other districts have not changed their minds so far at least. One large district would (Continued on Page 3)

Drop Action Against Lattimore

WASHINGTON (AP)—The government decided today to drop its 2½-year-old attempt to try Owen Lattimore on charges of perjury.

Atty. Gen. Brownell made the announcement.

Brownell noted that the U. S. District and Appeals Courts here had twice thrown out key counts of indictments charging Lattimore with false testimony before the Senate Internal Security Subcommittee in early 1952. Brownell said it thus appeared impossible to proceed on five remaining perjury counts.

Lattimore, a Johns Hopkins lecturer and Far Eastern affairs specialist, was accused of lying in denying that he had been a follower or promoter of the Communist line.

These accusations were described by Federal Dist. Judge Luther W. Youngdahl as "formless and obscure," and too vague for the 54-year-old Lattimore to defend.

DR. F. H. KRAMER SPEAKS AT LAST AUXILIARY MEET

Dr. Frank H. Kramer was the speaker Monday afternoon at the final meeting, until autumn, of the Auxiliary of the Warner Hospital. The session was held in the board room at the hospital.

Mrs. Granville R. Schultz and Mrs. Harrison F. Harbach were added as members of the Photo Babe committee headed by Mrs. Bruce N. Wolff, with Mrs. Charles Weaver as another member.

Mrs. David Blocher resigned as a member of the Snack Bar committee because of her commitments as executive secretary of the Adams County Cancer Society.

Mrs. Frank Kramer, chairman of the Snack Bar committee, named Mrs. Edgar A. Miller as a member of her group to succeed Mrs. Blocher.

Hostesses at the meeting were Mrs. Thomas and Mrs. Russell Campbell, the secretary.

The next meeting will be held September 26.

A 1940 graduate of York High School, Dr. Strickler received his bachelor of arts degree from Gettysburg College in 1944, his bachelor of divinity degree from Gettysburg Seminary two years later and a master of arts degree from New York University in 1949.

Since getting his degree from NYU the York County minister has been a professor of religious education and philosophy at Midland College, Fremont, Neb. He also will serve as chaplain of the college this fall term.

COUNTY WILL HIRE 2 SPEECH INSTRUCTORS

The county will employ two speech correctionists to give special instructions to school children with speech defects, the Adams County School Board decided at its meeting Monday evening at the court house.

That decision was reached after Dr. Donald Maletta, of the state Department of Public Instruction, reported that a survey made by him showed nearly 600 students, in need of speech correction work "and there may be 100 or 200 more who were not uncovered by the preliminary survey."

"A speech correctionist, in order to devote a half hour a week to each child, should not have more than 200 students under his or her care," Dr. George W. A. Stouffer, supervisor of special education for the county, told the county board. As a result the board authorized to employ one applicant already interviewed for the post and to secure another speech correctionist.

Engage Miss Blatchford

The board adopted a $12,000 budget for the correctionist program, salaries, clerical expenses and equipment as may be needed. Dr. Maletta showed that of the $12,000 approximately $10,000 will be paid by the state. The remainder will be paid by the various school districts of the county on the basis of the number of children from each district aided by the program.

Miss Jennie Blatchford, Oak Knoll, Pa., a graduate of Northwestern University, was engaged as the first speech correctionist for the county. County Superintendent of Schools Edgar Riegle said Miss (Continued on Page 5)

DAMAGE ACTION IS FILED HERE

Roy E. Goldsmith, 310 West High St., has filed a $590 assumption action against Raymond Wagner, Guernsey, in the prothonotary's office.

Goldsmith's action alleges that on May 16 he submitted a bid for the roofing contract with Arnold E. Orner, casher to the Arendtsville National Bank, who was to tabulate the bids and award the contract. On May 19, he claims, he was advised by a telephone call from Orner that he had been awarded the contract, and that this was confirmed by a call to Wagner. The following day, he alleges, he received a letter stating that his bid had been accepted, according to details which were listed.

"Subsequently the defendant repudiated the contract with the plaintiff, and engaged a third party to do the work covered by the bid," Goldsmith states, adding that he had already purchased the materials for the job. He asks damages of $325 for the cost of these materials and $265 for the loss of profit.

Walter J. Hamm Jr., New Oxford, R. 1, has filed suit for divorce from Leona M. Hamm, of that address. His action was filed Monday in the prothonotary's office. It states that the Hammes were married in 1945.

Comb Wide Pacific For 2 Airmen, Believed Alive

TOKYO (AP)—A vast air and sea search spread over 20,000 square miles of the foggy western Pacific today for two Marine jet fliers missing since Sunday night.

They are believed alive and drifting in tiny rubber rafts, from one of which faint radio signals can be heard.

By grim coincidence, the wife of one arrived today from Minneapolis with her 5-year-old son. She is Mrs. David Winton Bell. Her husband, a second lieutenant, is the son of Charles H. Bell, president of General Mills, Inc. The Navy notified Bell yesterday that his son was missing.

The two drifting fliers were hidden by fog from more than 50 planes and nine ships combing the sea around the volcanic is-

COMMISSIONERS CRITICIZED BY FIRE MARSHAL

County Fire Marshal John Murren said that the recent emergency test alert "worked well," but that "it didn't click the way it should."

Murren, civil defense coordinator for the Adams County Firemen's Association, spoke at the association's quarterly meeting Monday evening at the Hampton fire house. Murren criticized the County Commissioners for delaying the purchase of more radios for fire trucks, and for the manner in which they have been distributed in the county. "The commissioners have appropriated the money," he said, "but they have never spent it. The bigger companies in the county have gotten their third and fourth radios on their engines, ambulances, and rescue trucks, while Bonneville, Irishtown, and Centennial have been waiting for two years to get their second radio. . . . All we want is what the County Commissioners promised."

Purchase 30 Radios

Roger Myers, secretary of the association, said that the Commissioners had appropriated the money for sixty radios but that "only thirty" had been purchased. "The fire companies are responsible for the county, told the county board. We have been doing the work. We're the only group that is organized to handle this sort of thing."

Murren added, "The money is available, $6,000 is set aside for Civil Defense each year."

The officers of the Association decided to consult William G. Weaver, Civil Defense director for the county, to discuss possible action. The county firemen also passed a resolution joining the county Fire Chiefs' Association in requesting that a radio be purchased for Fire Marshal Murren's car.

Cites Experience

To point up the need for more radios, Murren told of his experience during the test alert, June 15. He said that at a given time, not announced beforehand, each company was to turn on its radio to receive instructions as to where to move in the simulated emergency. But at Centennial, Murren said that the battery of radio, on the only truck so equipped, was dead, and there was no power to receive radio messages or to start the truck.

The test, he explained, was to designate Mechanicsburg as a disaster area. Four county companies were ordered to move to Mechanicsburg, the four nearest them in to the spots vacated, and so on throughout the county. But two or three of the companies in the county could not be reached by radio, he said, "and so the pattern was not entirely successful."

"It was a good example of what would have happened if there had really been a bombing," he said. "There would be no advance warning, though. . . . We will have another alert during the summer, a county-wide test similar to this (Continued on Page 3)

Quartet Sings Monday Night

The Gettysburg Lions Club quartet which tied for first place at the Lions International Convention at Atlantic City last week sang two selections at the club meeting at the VFW home Monday evening.

The quartet, Walter Meighan, David Blosier, Clarence Bartholomew and Paul Grove, sang "Climbing Up The Mountain, Children," and "Steal Away." The latter was one of the numbers sung at the convention.

Incoming President Earl Ziegler, and a delegate to the convention, said that even though Lionism is in 60 countries and territories, the problems at the clubs are mutual. Two observations made at the convention were that "the strength of Lionism is in the small communities, and that Lions clubs can be fairly effective in the promotion of peace."

Other reports were heard from delegates Douglas Smith, Robert Sheads, Cloyd Shetter and Ralph Barley.

Guests included Philip Dunn, Penbrook, and William Martin, Cranford, N. J. There were 97 Lions and guests present.

Two Emmitsburg Men Are Fined $75

Grant W. Abrahams, 22, and Charles W. Miller, 26, both of Emmitsburg R. 1, paid fines totaling $75 and costs to Justice of the Peace Charles A. Hemler Saturday afternoon. The fines were levied in connection with the "hit-and-run auto crash into the covered bridge over Marsh Creek, on the Waterworks Road, on the night of June 18.

Abrahams, driver of the car owned by Miller, pleaded guilty to charges of reckless driving and leaving the scene of an accident without revealing his identity. Miller admitted leaving the scene also. The fines affixed were $25 and costs for each count. State police, who filed the charges, estimated damage to the bridge at $500.

Reasons For Foul-Ups
It was explained that one reason for foul-ups was the man-power shortages in some of the smaller companies. Another is that many of the phone numbers listed at the central radio station, in Gettysburg, have been changed, and that some of the key personnel at the companies have been changed, so that the proper person cannot always be contacted by telephone in case of an emergency. Murren urged all local officials to keep the central station informed of all such changes.

"WHERE GO THE BIRDS"

Have you ever chanced to wonder . . . where the songbirds go each night . . . after they have finished chirping . . . to mankind's profound delight . . . seems as though at daytime's ending . . . one by one they disappear . . . leaving tree and bush quite empty . . . taking with them untold cheer . . . I have tried to find their houses . . . scanning every nook and nest . . . but I seldom come upon them . . . though I try my very best . . . I suppose they use the darkness . . . as a magic hiding place . . . and I guess I wouldn't know them . . . if I met them face to face . . . Mother Nature loves her creatures . . . for she keeps them safe from harm . . . and should danger ever beckon . . . she has ways to sound alarm . . . so from time to time I wonder . . . where the songbirds go each night . . . after they have finished chirping . . . to mankind's profound delight.

Co. has purchased a new fire engine, and welcomed them to the ranks of motorized units. The annual convention of the county firemen will be held Labor Day at Centennial. Ed Loeffel, secretary-treasurer of the yearbook committee, urged all companies to turn in their histories as soon as possible.

EAST BERLIN CLASS HOLDS ITS 20TH REUNION

The Class of 1935 at East Berlin High School held its twenty-year reunion Sunday on the high school campus, with eleven of the original eighteen members present. This was the second class to be graduated from the school after it had become a full four-year high school. Their next reunion will be held in 1960.

Those attending included Mrs. Mary Emig Hull, her husband Arthur, and daughters Virginia and Barbara; Mrs. Florence Hunter Rohrbach, husband Melvin, and sons Robert and John; Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Gruver, all of East Berlin; John Miller and wife, Denton, Md.; Mrs. Jennie Helkes Walmer and daughters Mildred and Joan, Penbrook, Pa.

Also Mrs. Nettie Phillips Bower, husband Clair, and daughter Bonita, York Springs; Ira Boyer, Mrs. Kathryn Anthony Boyer, son Tommy and daughter Geraldine, Hanover R. 3; Carl Alwine and wife, son Tommy, and daughters Sue and Janie, Spring Grove R. 3; Mrs. Irene Simmer Diehl, husband Fred, and daughters Phyllis and Beverly, Everett, Pa., and Horace Frey, Abbottstown R. 1.

Mr. Frey was awarded the prize for having the thinnest hair; Mr. Alwine for having the largest family, four; Mrs. Walmer for having the oldest child, 18; Mr. Alwine for having the youngest child, 18 months, and Mrs. Diehl for traveling the greatest distance.

spokesman for the group, first asked that East Berlin be permitted to join New Oxford, adding that East Berlin had petitioned the Lower Adams district to permit it to enter that jointure but that New Oxford, while willing to admit East Berlin, could not act because of the present county plan set-up. As an alternative he said East Berlin would prefer one large district instead of three. It was opposed, he said, to entering into a jointure with North Adams, as presently planned.

In the course of the discussion Baker said that Paradise Township, York County, a member of the Conewago (East Berlin) jointure since its establishment, wanted to leave on the elementary level.

Paradise is sending its elementary children to four one-room schools and "two churches," Baker said, and it plans to build an eight-room elementary school within its own borders, and operate as an individual township as far as elementary students are concerned. Baker said that Paradise "plans to sue for its release if we don't give it to them, and if it can" sue it will enter another jointure and send its high school students to Dover." He said Paradise has agreed to wait for a decision until Thursday night's meeting at East Berlin.

Baker said that the East Berlin members fear that establishment of two joint districts out of the three would leave the two new districts too small to operate and "we'll have to go through all this again."

Settlement of the problems as quickly as possible is needed because of the necessity to build on the part of the systems involved. Curtis S. Sponseller, member of the county board from New Oxford, said the Lower Adams district is "going to have to add to its high school and elementary school no matter what happens, whether we get any additional districts in the jointure or not."

ADVERTISE IN THE TIMES

Elect Head Of Youth Fellowship

John Zomper was elected president of the Youth Fellowship of Redeemer's Evangelical and Reformed Church at a meeting Sunday evening at the parsonage. Other officers elected include: Vice president, Gloria Burgoon; secretary-treasurer, Barbara Swann; chairman of the committee on faith, Gerrie Roberts; action committee chairman, Mary Ann Burgoon; fellowship committee chairman, Tony Maitland. Marilyn Spangler is the retiring president. The devotions were in charge of Rev. Porter W. Seiwel. It was decided that the summer project for "dedicated dollars" will again be self-denial envelopes to be turned in at the first regular meeting of the Fellowship in September.

Plans were made to have a swimming party followed by an evening of refreshments on Sunday, August 21, at Fuller Lake. Details will be announced later. Group games were played following the business session. Refreshments were served by the Rev. and Mrs. Seiwel.

The first outdoor worship in the summer series of union vesper services was held Sunday evening in the Crouse Park pavilion. The services are arranged by the Littlestown Ministerium and the first service was in charge of Christ Evangelical and Reformed Church.

The young people of St. John's Lutheran Church will hold their annual swimming party and outing Wednesday evening at Crouse's Pool. The group will leave at 5:30 p.m. from the church. Refreshments will be served by the Christian Endeavor Society.

HYMN SING IS HELD SUNDAY

The hymn sing sponsored by the Adams County Christian Endeavor Union, held on Sunday evening in St. Paul's Lutheran Church, Littlestown, was well attended. George Brown, Harrisburg, state financial secretary, and former president of the Southeast Central District, was in charge.

The opening devotions included the Scripture by Shirley A. Gerrick, president of Christ Evangelical and Reformed Church C. E., Littlestown, and prayer by the Rev. G. Howard Koons, pastor of Christ Church and County C. E. pastoral advisor. Russell Lehman, Carlisle, president elect of the Cumberland County Christian Endeavor Union, showed slides of former summer assemblies and of Dickinson College where this year's summer assembly will be held August 18 to 21. A film strip was shown by Richard Morrison. There were musical selections.

The offering will be used to help finance the County C. E. program. The service concluded with the Lord's Prayer and the C. E. benediction repeated in unison. Mrs. Jay D. Basehoar, Littlestown, was the accompanist. Ushers were Joanne Hollinger and John Groft, of St. Johns Church, and Joan Bair and George D. Koons, of Christ Church. Mervin K. Myers, Littlestown, R. D., is president of the Adams County Christian Endeavor Union.

The annual family picnic of the officers, teachers and parents of the Children's Division of Redeemer's Church School will be held Wednesday afternoon at 5:30 o'clock at Meadowview, Union Mills. Arrangements are in charge of Mrs. James R. Reinholdt, Mrs. Donald C. Arbogast, Miss Helen Jacobs, Mrs. Donald C. Feiser and Mrs. Porter W. Seiwel.

The birthday anniversaries of members of the Ladies' Auxiliary of the Eagles, observed during June and July, will be celebrated at a dinner party in Hanover Wednesday evening. The women will leave at 6 p.m. from the FOE home.

Seventy-eight per cent of vehicles involved in fatal accidents in 1954 were traveling straight ahead.

MAY REGULATE PARKING LOTS, GARAGE RATES

HARRISBURG (AP)—Rates charged by parking lots and parking garages would be regulated by the Public Utility Commission under legislation before the Senate.

Two Philadelphia Democrats introduced a bill last night asserting that such facilities are "affected with a public interest" and should be subject to regulation as public utilities.

Parking facility owners and operators would be required to file a rate schedule within 30 days of the date of passage of the proposed legislation.

The PUC then would have the task of examining the reasonableness of the listed rates and altering them if they are found at fault.

Sponsors of the bill are Sens. Stiefel and Camiel.

Other Senate Bills

Other new Senate bills would: Bar other than light delivery trucks from the highways between 10 a.m. and 6 p.m. on Sundays unless they deliver perishable goods and require a $25 payment for a special permit for this service—Holland (D-Allegheny).

In transfers of unexpired licenses for engineers from other states require that the applicant be graduates of accredited engineering schools and have five years of more experience—Dent (D-Westmoreland) and Taylor (R-Dauphin).

Permit former owners of land taken by the Lehigh Coal and Navigation Co. for construction of the Delaware Canal to enter damage suits against the commonwealth, present owner of the canal, in cases where the land is not being used for the original purpose—Yosko (D-Northampton).

PERON LEADER RESIGNS POST

BUENOS AIRES (AP)—The boss of Argentina's giant General Confederation of Workers (CGT), the backbone of President Juan Peron's support, reportedly has resigned.

Well-informed sources said last night that Eduardo Vuletich, secretary general of the six-million-member organization since 1952, has stepped down in favor of his assistant Hector Hugo de Pietro. The CGT was organized by Peron and his late wife Eva.

Vuletich was a leader in the Peronista drive against the Roman Catholic Church, which came in the open last November when Peron accused some of the clergy of working against his regime. The church denied the charge.

Peronista attacks on the church came to a sudden halt after the unsuccessful June 16 revolt by naval and Marine units. There has been no criticism of the clergy in the progovernment press since.

Vuletich was attending an International Labor Organization conference in Geneva when the revolt broke out. He returned here Saturday.

A federal judge, meanwhile, returned the Metropolitan Cathedral and adjoining archbishop's palace in downtown Buenos Aires to the control of the Catholic Church yesterday. Both buildings had been closed since the uprising. The palace was burned the night of the revolt but the cathedral escaped serious damage.

In a companion move, the court also released the last of several hundred persons arrested in a June 12 police raid on the palace that followed a street battle between Catholics and Peron supporters.

Out Of The Past

From the Files of the Star and Sentinel and
The Gettysburg Times

FIFTY YEARS AGO

Death Of Prominent Lady: Margaret Rebecca Durbanow Cress was born December 1, 1830, at the family home near Gettysburg, Adams county, Penna. She was the first child of the union of Samuel Durbanow and Hannah Brinkerhoff. The death of her mother when very young placed upon her early and large responsibilities, including the helpful care of the children of her father's two subsequent marriages. She was married to Dr. James Cress, of Gettysburg, June 11, 1863, Rev. John Dickson, later bishop of the United Brethren church, officiating.

Her husband enlisted in the 26th Pennsylvania Volunteers and later became a surgeon in the 61st.

The funeral services were conducted at the Wheaton (Ill.) home by the Rev. W. L. Ferris at three o'clock Sunday, June 18, attended by all the family and her brother, Rev. Chas. T. Durbanow, of Pittsburg, Kansas, and many neighbors and friends. Though her mortal remains lie interred in the Wheaton cemetery, the influence of her quiet and noble life will live on as a cherished memory to all who knew her in life.

The street sprinkler has arrived and its excellent work is being appreciated. Thanks to the Woman's Civic Club.

The resignation of Rev. H. G. Vincent as pastor of the Episcopal church of the Prince of Peace, is to be regretted. Rev. Vincent is an able minister and during his stay in Gettysburg has made many friends, who, like the writer, will be sorry to see the Reverend and his wife leave town.

Fairfield Items: The Christian Endeavor Society of the Reformed church will hold a grand social at the home of Wm. Fowler on Tuesday evening, July 4th.

F. A. Grimes, of Woodland, California, and Mrs. Dr. Russell, of Herndon, Va., were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Landis last week.

Howard Moore is having his house painted.

Wm. M. Linn is on the sick list.

Iron Springs Items: R. C. Spangler, musical instructor, of Gettysburg, was through this section last Tuesday and gave Clifford Hummelbaugh and Miss Veda Fowler, of Fairfield Station, musical lessons.

Jacob Tressler was the guest of his son, Henry Tressler, at Fountain Dale, on Sunday last.

John F. Peters made a business trip to Gettysburg last Saturday.

The Sick: We are pleased to note that Mrs. Jerome W. Diehl, Chambersburg street, who has been ill and a great sufferer for some time, is improving.

Jerome Walter, High street, who was stricken with paralysis some time ago, suffered another stroke last week, and is in a serious condition.

Charles Bream, son of Henry S. Bream, was taken to the Baltimore General Hospital Monday by Dr. Hartman. The young man is thought to be suffering with appendicitis and an operation will likely be performed.

Mrs. William Hollinger, wife of the well known dentist, of Abbotstown, is critically ill with a complication of diseases.

Now Justice Stewart: Hon. John Stewart was made a Justice of the Supreme Court Wednesday when he took the oath of office in Philadelphia. The commission of Justice Stewart was read by Prothonotary A. K. McClure, his old law partner and the oath was administered by Chief Justice Mitchell.

The day previous to having taken the oath Justice Stewart received the nomination for the high office from the hands of the Republican State Committee at its meeting held in Philadelphia, upon which occasion representatives were present from all parts of the State. The name of Justice Stewart was ably presented by Charles Wal-

Today's Talk

THESE THINGS I LOVE

I love the glow of the early morning sunlight creeping up the night, peering slyly through the forest opposite my summer island retreat, and then bursting its gold and crimson into the little lodge where I sleep and write.

How wonderful is the smell of the pines, with their medicinal odor, and how happy are the sparrows and warblers who flit here and there and communicate softly with each other. Long, long ago God had the paths at "Weskaewannak" paved with rock and then softened them by years of falling pine needles. I know every flower and tree here by name, and we salute each other.

There are carpets here of wintergreen, and in season blueberries and huckleberries are abundant. No one planted them. They just came. I know where every wild flower nests and I welcome them wherever met. The days and nights are full of peace, and the log fire helps often to inspire these talks, especially if friends sit there with me.

And what sunsets! So full of beauty and Good Night thoughts. The day ends. Time for meditation and prayer. Thoughts of those beloved — wishing they were here. How simple and uncomplicated is this little island. No traffic lights; no noises save those delicate ones that a forest offers; just the distant toot, toot of the outgoing and incoming trains on the mainland. I think Thoreau would have liked this island.

The little red squirrels I have patiently tamed have full confidence in me, run to welcome the peanuts that I have brought to them from the big city. They amuse me and I learn from them; they are busy creatures — and smart. Here it is a joy to read my books uninterrupted, and to meditate upon them as read. For hours I have watched the formations of the clouds in the blue sky. I would like to sleep on one of those clouds and from there salute the age-old rocky shore below!

Tomorrow Mr. Adams will talk on the subject: "Personal Interests."

SIGN OF CHILDHOOD

You can tell where children play if the lawn is worn away. Where the bicycles you see Little boys and girls will be.

Flowers are very nice to raise. They need care in many ways. But a mother said (and smiled): "I would rather raise a child."

It is well if all can be fit for those who call to see. But it asks for greater grace To make home a happy place.

On every dwelling street

There's a place where children meet. Where the lawn is wearing out And the toys are strewn about.

$30,000 ACTION DEVELOPS OVER CLAIM TO FARM

A Circuit Court proceeding in Frederick which started in equity as a bill of complaint for specific performance of contract has been transferred to the law court as a suit for $30,000 damages.

The plaintiff in both proceedings is Dallas Sonny McNair, stepson of the late Scott Hiram McNair, well-known Emmitsburg district farmer. The defendants are William G. McNair, of Carroll County; Robert W. McNair, of R. 2, and Scott T. McNair and Dula M. Welty, individually and as administrators of the estate of Scott McNair.

The equity proceedings were heard at length before Associate Judge Patrick M. Schnauffer in January. Dallas McNair sought to show through witnesses at that time that his stepfather promised to leave him his 117-acre farm before he died without any will.

Judge Schnauffer recently signed a decree saying that while it appeared Dallas McNair was entitled to some relief or to some remedy but not in equity for specific performance, the proceedings would be removed to the Circuit Court sitting as a court of common law and granting leave to the parties involved to file such amended pleadings as may bring the cause before the court.

Cite Couple's Pact
Dallas McNair, through his attorney, Edward D. Storm, then filed the $30,000 suit saying that during the spring of 1946, the late Scott McNair agreed with his wife, mother of the plaintiff, that the survivor of them would execute a will bequeathing their joint estate to the plaintiff except for $4,000 to be divided equally among the defendants.

But Scott McNair survived his wife and failed to keep his agreement and died intestate so the estate went entirely to the defendants, the suit says.

It is further alleged that Dallas McNair rendered services to his stepfather as an unpaid family worker upon Scott McNair's promise to pay by willing his estate to him. Dallas McNair says he was on a part-time basis prior to 1945 and a full time and overtime basis from 1945 to the date of Scott McNair's death and received only a small amount of spending money.

The defendants, through their attorneys, Sherman P. Bowers and Parsons Newman, filed a motion asking that the plaintiff file a bill of particulars of the claim.

COMEDY PLAYS AT TOTEM POLE

"Present Laughter," the Broadway and London Comedy by Noel Coward, opened at the Totem Pole Playhouse Monday night. One of the most popular of Coward's laugh hits, "Present Laughter" will continue through Saturday.

Robert Herrman will be seen as the vain and much-admired actor, Garry Essendine. A man who pretends elaborate annoyance at his being constantly surrounded by his many friends and admirers, Essendine is never so happy as when in the midst of activity and confusion. An actor given to acting off the stage, Essendine is delighted to have an appreciative audience while he plays his favorite part—that of Essendine.

Among those who will be playing assorted satellites of Essendine are Terry Clemes as his ex-wife; Ginny Gannon as his secretary; Gail Rider Stough as the wife of his best friend; Pat Murphy as a hero-worshipping girl, and Doug Robinson as a desperately earnest young playwright.

Other comedy roles in "Present Laughter," staged by William Putch, will be portrayed by Billie Heffner, Milt Hamerman, Elizabeth Chalmersworth, John Eames and Chet Szajna.

TORNADOES AND STORMS KILL 4, INJURE 25

By The Associated Press

Tornadoes or violent thunderstorms that struck in parts of the mid-continent, South and East left four persons dead, more than a score injured and heavy property damage today.

A man and a woman were killed late yesterday when a twister smashed 25 homes at the Hillerage housing development northeast of Scottsbluff, Neb. Some 25 persons received hospital treatment.

Two persons were killed by lightning in storms that swept parts of Texas and New Mexico last night. Property damage was expected to run between $100,000 and $500,000.

Hail and rain caused severe crop damage in Greenwood Township in east central Pennsylvania. Four inches of rain fell in one hour.

Killed in the Nebraska tornado were Mrs. V. J. Daniels, 50, and Jim Karubos, 16. Mrs. Daniels' husband and Mr. and Mrs. Nick Karubos, parents of the dead boy, were critically injured.

Face Flood Threat

The twister was one of a rash of tornadoes that hop-scotched across parts of Nebraska and Wyoming Sunday night and yesterday. Several persons were injured in Wyoming.

The threat of a flood hung over the stricken Nebraska area. The North Platte River, swollen by heavy rains, forced evacuations from some areas.

Mrs. Henry Julian, about 50, was killed by lightning as she stood in her front yard at Canadian, Tex. Lightning killed Kenneth E. Guyer Sr., 46, in a field on his farm near Panhandle, Tex.

Winds reached 80 miles an hour in several sections of Carlsbad, N.M. Telephone and power lines were ripped down and heavy rains flooded streets.

Skies were generally clear from the Mississippi Valley eastward to the Atlantic and west of the Continental Divide.

COUNCIL MEETS TUESDAY

Final plans for the entertainment of Gettysburg's 20,000,000th visitor will be outlined this evening at 8 o'clock at a meeting of the Travel Council in the court house. President Allen Larson said today. Discussion on final use of the Western Maryland railroad station rented by the Travel Council is also scheduled for tonight's meeting.

LICENSED TO MARRY

Robert L. Brown, Salvilleville, Md., and Shirley Eva Gladhill, Fairfield, have secured a marriage license in Frederick.

Three out of four traffic accidents happen in clear weather on dry roads.

GOP WILL SEEK U.S. FUNDS FOR "PEACE SHIP"

WASHINGTON (AP)—Senate Republicans planned a floor fight today to restore funds for President Eisenhower's demonstration peace ship project.

Sen. Hickenlooper (R-Iowa) told a reporter in advance of debate (noon EDT) on the measure that he would offer an amendment to the Atomic Energy Commission construction bill to put money back for the ship.

However, Sen. Anderson (D-NM), chairman of the Senate House Atomic Energy Committee, said he was ready to back his group's action in knocking out the 21 million dollars asked by Eisenhower for a reactor to run the ship.

The House passed the bill, which authorized $267,700,000 in AEC construction projects, by voice vote after brief debate yesterday.

House GOP leaders did not seek to restore the ship reactor money. The President had asked that such a move be made after the Democratic majority on the joint committee stripped the 21 million from the bill last week.

Eisenhower launched his peace ship project in a speech last April at an Associated Press luncheon. He said the vessel could tour the ports of the world without refueling and could be fitted with exhibits to show American progress in peacetime uses of atomic energy.

Several members of the Atomic Energy Committee, including at least one Republican, Rep. W. Sterling Cole (NY), were highly critical of it.

They said the AEC's resources, particularly in scientific manpower, were limited and that it was much better to concentrate on more important reactor projects.

FINID GIANT TUSKS

PALISADES, Idaho (AP)—A jaw bone and a pair of giant tusks were uncovered yesterday at the Palisades dam project site.

William Donaldson, Idaho Falls, a worker at the dam, found them. He said the tusks were four inches in diameter at the small end and went up to 12 inches in diameter at a distance three feet from the point. He said he would seek help from Idaho State College in identifying the bones.

PROVO, Utah (AP)—Mrs. George A. King sent her living room sofa to an upholsterer for repair with the joking remark, "If you find any diamonds, be sure and let me know."

A short time later, the upholsterer called her. "Lady, we have found a diamond in your sofa."

It proved to be a set from her engagement ring, which she had lost 12 years ago.

Brooklyn Dodgers Return To Normal Playing With .720 Percentage In June

By ED WILKS
The Associated Press

If it's any consolation to the rest of the National League, Brooklyn is back to normal again. The Dodgers aren't winning any more games these days than they did in the past three seasons.

Trouble is, of course, that the Brooks won the pennant in two of the last three years.

The Dodgers have been playing .720 ball for June. That's about the same winning percentage they enjoyed in 1952, when they won, and in '54, when they lost. They traveled at a .724 clip for June in both years.

Last year it proved too slow a pace. The New York Giants raced along at an .857 clip, taking the lead for good in June.

In '52, the Brooks moved past the Giants into first place during June and had a 3½-game lead at the end of the month. They made it two straight the following year, although barely above .500 for June. Neither of the contenders at the time—Milwaukee and St. Louis—did much better, however.

Brooks Have Edge

This time, though, the Brooks have that big edge they piled up in April and May to lead the second-place Chicago Cubs by 12½ games. The Cubs, incidentally, have played just 444 ball for the month yet have stayed a half game up on Milwaukee.

The Braves have been winning at a .640 pace—their best June since shifting to Milwaukee—but they've had to come from way back.

In the American League, the second-place Chicago White Sox and the Boston Red Sox have been the winningest teams this month—each with a .708 percentage. But they haven't been able to make up for bad start and still have ground to close on the New York Yankees.

Yanks In Lead

The Yanks have been winning at a 2-out-of-3 pace for the month (.667) maling sure to grab the big ones. They have a three-game lead on the runner-up White Sox. The Red Sox, much like the Braves in the National, were back in the next county when they started to pick up and are 11 games back in fifth place.

The Cleveland Indians have split their 28 June games and trail the Yanks by six.

By comparison, the Tribe played .690 ball in June when they set the league record with 111 victories last season to take the flag.

No games were scheduled yesterday.

Carter Defends His Title On Wednesday

BOSTON (AP)—Lightweight champion Jimmy Carter, a ring-winner who combines speed with power punching, makes his 11th appearance in a title fight tomorrow night when he defends his crown against Wallace (Bud) Smith of Cincinnati at the Boston Garden.

Carter, who appears to reach his peak when the title is on the line, relies better than a 3-1 favorite to retain his championship and an even-money choice to knock out Smith within the scheduled 15-round distance.

Although New England will be blacked out of a nation-wide telecast (ABC 10 p.m. EDT) the fight is expected to draw one of the smallest gates for a title fight in years. Local fans so far have shown little interest in the bout.

MUCH ACTIVITY ON BLUE GRASS HORSE FARMS

By BILL HUDSON

LEXINGTON, Ky. (AP)—Springtime is to Kentucky's multi-million dollar horse industry what the pre-Christmas season is to a department store — all hustle and bustle.

The thoroughbred nurseries, with their miles of white plank fences and gently rolling green pastures, are now at their prettiest.

Tourists and rack track visitors always step up the sightseeing at the farms this time of year. The farms generally maintain a schedule for visitors.

Two hundred thoroughbred farms are scattered throughout the Blue Grass of Central Kentucky. Many of them are within a few minutes' drive of Lexington.

Large And Small

The farms range from small operations of a few acres and a few broodmares to a mammoth layout of 2,000 acres feeding 200 or more thoroughbreds.

Some owners earn a living from their farms. For others, the farms are just a sideline. All have a common goal — production of better thoroughbreds.

Many of the horses see action at nearby Keeneland race track, at Louisville's Churchill Downs, home of the Kentucky Derby, and at Dade Park near Henderson.

The foaling season begins early each year and continues through early May. Newborn colts and fillies get meticulous care, for any one may be a million dollar turfling. Citation, a retired turf millionaire, lives at Calumet Farm, just down the highway from Keeneland.

Careful Program

Getting the yearlings ready for summer market sets a fast tempo on the farms. The frisky youngsters require a diet as carefully planned as a baby's, exercise and daily grooming. As the sun gets warmer, their outdoor freedom is restricted because they are susceptible to sunburn. Some owners permit only a daily walk for their yearlings when the hot summer sun beats down.

Many of America's greatest sires are found in the Blue Grass. Nasrullah, the sensational English stallion whose four offspring from his first American-bred crop averaged $50,000 each at market, stands at A. B. Hancock's 2,113-acre Claiborne Farm near Paris, La.

Other famous stallions, such as Secretariat, are retired.

Calumet Farm, owned by Mrs. C. W. Calumet, is one of Kentucky's top racing stables. It's the home of five Kentucky Derby winners — Whirlaway, Pensive, Ponder, Hill Gail and Citation. Bull Lea and Coalbrook also are among its name horses.

Mahmoud is at C. V. Whitney's Farm; Alibhai and Royal Charger stand at Leslie Combs II's Spendrift Farm; Court Fleet at Stoner Creek Stud; War Admiral at the Farm, away from, which was the home of his papa, Mar O'War; Polynesian at Gallaher Farm, and Roman at Stallion Station. All are near Lexington.

Additional Farms

Other farms include those of Greentree, Dixiana, Elmendorf, and George D. Widener, who operates the old Kennedy farm.

Some of the farms don't race but offer their yearlings for sale privately or in summer auctions. This group includes Suedthrift, Mereworth, the estate of Samuel D. Riddle, Henry H. Knight's Almahurst, and Howard Reineman's Crown Crest among the larger ones.

Neighbors of the thoroughbred nurseries include such well-known standardbred (harness) horses' farms as Walnut Hall Stud, Gainesway, Leatherwoods, Poplar Hill, Walnut Hall Farm and Castleton. The latter also keeps a stable of saddle horses.

Not everyone who owns a thoroughbred owns a farm. Some have just one or two horses, which they board on one of the farms. Boarding for farmless owners is a major activity in the Blue Grass.

Remove skin, blood vessels, connective tissue and fat from veal or lamb kidneys before washing well — not after.

Elks Squad Of Big Little League

First row, left to right, Ronald L. Hankey, 2b; Dave S. Weimer, ss; Ronald M. Stokes, 1b; Sidney G. Weikert, 1b; Ronald L. McClell, lf; second row, Robert D. Staley, 3b; Dave E. McCartney, 3b; John K. McClell, cf; Dave C. Stoner, c; Barry E. Sixes, cf; top row, Jake J. Miller, cf; James W. Townsend, p; Gordon Richardson, p; John R. Sauter, cf, and Franklin Stetler, c.

There will be no league games this week due to the Gettysburg Fire Co. carnival. League action resumes July 5 when the Legion meets the Eagles.

GIANTS FADING TO LOWEST EBB SAYS MANAGER

By JOE REICHLER

NEW YORK (AP)—The New York Giants had just won a pregame homer-hitting contest from the Yankees when a Giant player muttered half under his breath:

"That's about the only thing this club can win."

It is an opinion shared by many Giants who, individually, are trying as hard as ever but collectively have given up and conceded the 1955 flag to the Brooklyn Dodgers.

The opinion was confirmed when the Yankees went on to win the exhibition game with the Giants 4-1.

The Giants may not be dead but they are through. The players know it and so does Manager Leo Durocher. The worst part of it is, the players have become resigned to it. They can't wait for the season to come to a merciful end.

"At Lowest Ebb"

Durocher stubbornly refused to admit it before last night's game. For the record, he pointed out that the season had not even reached the halfway mark but he shook his head sadly when asked whether the team was capable of pulling off another miracle such as that of 1951.

"The club is at its lowest ebb right now," he said. "Everything is going wrong for us. Nothing we do turns out right. When the players don't foul it up, I do."

"Right now I'd have to say we're as bad as in our worst days in 1953 (when the Giants finished in the second division). Nobody is hitting. Our defense is terrible and our pitching, except for Sal Maglie, is bad. What mystifies me the most, however, is our total futility at the plate. The only guys who are doing any hitting at all are Whitey Lockman and Don Mueller. If it weren't for them, I'd be damned if we'd made more than three hits a game."

FIGHTS LAST NIGHT

BROCKTON, Mass. — Johnny Hove, 200, Taunton, Mass., outpointed Leon (The Mule) Johnson, 189, Charlotte, N.C., 8.

FLORENCE, S.C. — Pappy Gault, 120½, Spartanburg, S.C., stopped Jimmy Calcutt, 125½, Florence, 3.

FINANCE TRAINING CENTER

A budget of $9,132 for operation of the Day Care Training Center was adopted. This will be the first year that the center, established two years ago under sponsorship of a volunteer group, will be under supervision of the Adams County School board.

Mrs. J. Clare Routson and Mrs. Nadya Barnes who taught in the school the last two years were re-elected.

The county board also asked the committee of the Adams County Association for Retarded Children to continue as an advisory committee for the school. The committee includes: Mrs. J. C. Donley, Attorney Charles W. Wolf, Rev. Herman Stumpfle, Miss Bettie Livermore, Dr. Joseph Baker and Mrs. Guyon E. Buehler. The county board asked that the committee be enlarged to seven. The cost of operation of the school will be borne by the state and the school districts which send children to the center.

A supplemental contract with the Veterans Administration for $75 was approved. The contract was completed to permit the county to turn over to the Veterans Administration $75 received from sale of a projector and some other equipment to the Adams County center, society in winding up the GI "On-the-farm" training program that was carried on under county board supervision for about ten years. The county ceased teaching students some months ago, and has since been winding up the bookkeeping steps involved in closing out the program.

The annual convention picnic of the Adams County School directors will be held at the South Mountain Fairgrounds July 28. School legislation and the new correctional program will be discussed. Committees were selected for the convention.

JACKSON SEEKS VALDES' BOUT

NEW YORK (AP)—"Now I want Valdes (Nino Valdes). That's my last trouble—my last headache."

Tommy (Hurricane) Jackson sat in his dressing room at ancient St. Nick's after he had evaded an old score with Jimmy Slade who ended his hot streak a year ago.

A technical knockout by Valdes last July is the most damaging blot on the Hurricane's record, 22-3-1 for 26 fights. "Slade didn't move like last time," he said. "He came inside more. I wanted to get even with him. Now I want Valdes."

Jackson, the perpetual motion man from New York's Far Rockaway section, overwhelmed Slade with his non-stop attack. Judge Bert Grant had it 6-4, Judge Leo Birnbaum 6-3-1 and Referee Barney Felix 5-4-1 all for the Hurricane. The AP card was 6-3-1 for Jackson. A crowd of 1,400 paying $2,178 seemed to agree with the unanimous decision for the 2 to 1 favorite in the 10-round heavy-weight match.

Jackson at 195½ had 12 pounds on Slade who came in at 183½ pounds. There were no knockdowns, although Slade slipped and fell in the eighth.

FINANCE TRAINING CENTER

A budget of $9,132 for operation of the Day Care Training Center was adopted. This will be the first year that the center, established two years ago under sponsorship of a volunteer group, will be under supervision of the Adams County School board.

Mrs. J. Clare Routson and Mrs. Nadya Barnes who taught in the school the last two years were re-elected.

The county board also asked the committee of the Adams County Association for Retarded Children to continue as an advisory committee for the school. The committee includes: Mrs. J. C. Donley, Attorney Charles W. Wolf, Rev. Herman Stumpfle, Miss Bettie Livermore, Dr. Joseph Baker and Mrs. Guyon E. Buehler. The county board asked that the committee be enlarged to seven. The cost of operation of the school will be borne by the state and the school districts which send children to the center.

FOREIGN AID BILL LIKELY TO BE DECREASED

By B. L. LIVINGSTONE
WASHINGTON (AP)—A bill to authorize new foreign aid spending of more than $3 billion dollars came up for House action today with critics aiming to pare it down in size.

In advance of debate on the $3,855,000,000 global aid program, Chairman Richards (D-SC) of the Foreign Affairs Committee told newsmen:

"I hope the bill will not be cut appreciably. The bill passed by the Senate is already cut 139 million dollars. I think that's enough. But what the House will think is another matter."

President Eisenhower requested $3 billion dollars in foreign assistance funds for the bookkeeping year beginning Friday. Aside from the money cuts, the House bill is substantially in the form outlined by the administration. The bill is merely an authorization which sets a ceiling on foreign aid spending; actual funds will be voted separately.

File Minority Report
A sharp attack was leveled at the program in a minority report prepared by four Republican members of Richards committee. The signers were Representatives Church of Illinois, Bentley of Michigan, Adair of Indiana and Lawrence Smith of Wisconsin. They contended the aid program should be critically reappraised before new funds are authorized, and contended it is so broad as to be no more than a "blank check."

Other members have said they planned to seek cuts applying specifically to India and to Yugoslavia. Yesterday's announcement

CHICAGO (AP)—A dirty three-inch piece of bone found 100 feet from an accident scene may enable Harold Walat, 19, to recover completely from a serious leg injury in a motorcycle-truck collision.

A policeman found the bone and it was taken to a hospital along with Walat. Doctors identified it as a fragment of the youth's left tibia, cleaned it and replaced it in his leg.

Monday, five days after the accident, doctors said Walat's leg is mending well. Had not the bone fragment been found, they said, the leg might have been shortened or Walat would have faced an expensive bone graft.

GELSENKIRCHEN, Germany (AP)—Fourteen coal miners were killed Sunday by air pressure from an explosion 2,400 feet below the surface in the Nordstern diggings in the Ruhr. The blast occurred during dynamiting operations and caused collapse of the gallery in which the victims were working.

SENATE PASSES BILL TO STUDY SECURITY PLAN

By JACK BELL

WASHINGTON (AP)—A Democrat and a Republican agreed today a proposed new bipartisan security survey should—but probably won't—eliminate the Communist-in-government issue from the 1956 political campaign.

The Senate passed by unanimous voice vote yesterday a bill by Sen. Humphrey (D-Minn.) to set up a 12-member special commission to study the government's security program.

The proposal now goes to the House, where a similar plan has been approved by the Judiciary Committee.

Humphrey said in an interview his chief objective is to "take the security program out of politics."

"This sort of study should take the Communist-in-government issue out of next year's campaign," he said. "I hope it will, but you can't be responsible for irresponsible people."

Helped In 1952

Sen. Aiken (R-Vt.) said he thinks the measure will help in that respect. But he made it clear he doesn't think all Republicans will stop talking about an issue many of them thought helped them win in 1952.

"I think the percentage of Republicans who are going to talk about it in 1956 will be much smaller than before," he said. He added he doesn't believe it will be a prime issue.

Sen. Monroney (D-Okla.), head of the Democratic speakers bureau in 1952, said he doubts the Communist issue will be entirely forgotten.

Democrats complained bitterly in 1954 that Vice President Nixon implied their party was soft on communism. They characterized as a "numbers racket" the GOP administration's claims as to the numbers of federal employees who had been separated from the payroll on security grounds.

Nixon would appoint four of the 12 members of the commission, which is to be split evenly between the two parties. Two of these appointees would be from the Senate and two would be civilians.

President Eisenhower would name four civilians and Speaker of the House Rayburn of Texas would name two from the House and two from civilian life. The commission would elect its chairman.

ASKS PROBE OF SALE OF PAPER IN BROOKLYN

ALBANY, N. Y. (AP) — The president of the American Newspaper Guild, CIO, Monday called for a Justice Department investigation of the suspension of the Brooklyn Eagle during a guild strike against the newspaper.

Joseph F. Collis of Wilkes-Barre, Pa., said that the suspension last March 16 illustrated "the pattern of publishers conspiring to put a paper out of circulation so they can divide the field among the surviving papers."

In a speech at the opening session of the guild's 22nd annual convention, Collis asserted:

"The Brooklyn Eagle was bought by one or more New York newspapers to put it out of business."

The union president asked the 225 delegates to adopt a resolution urging the U.S. Justice Department to determine whether the laws against monopoly had been violated.

Frank D. Schroth, publisher of the afternoon paper, said in announcing the suspension of the 114-year-old Eagle that the Guild strike had forced it out of business.

Collis said events since the strike made it "obvious that some disposition of the Brooklyn Eagles was made months before the Guild strike date."

He termed the auction of the newspaper's assets last month a "sham." He said that several hours before the auction was scheduled one of Schroth's sons still was trying to arrange with the Guild to reopen the paper.

TENOR PRESENTS GIFT TO POPE

VATICAN CITY (AP)—Jan Peerce, leading tenor of the Metropolitan Opera, presented a rare record collection of church music Monday to Pope Pius XII.

The tenor and his wife attended a big general audience held by the pontiff in St. Peter's basilica.

Peerce and his wife approached the pontiff with the gift.

The Pope smiled happily and told Peerce that he was familiar with his work.

"I hope," replied the tenor, "that you will have the time in your busy life to listen to these records." The pontiff assured him that he would.

The records include liturgical music by Bach, Mozart, Verdi, Bloch and others.

They were presented to the pontiff by the Musicians Emergency Fund of America on behalf of violinist Fritz Kreisler and his wife "to further the cause of understanding and brotherly relations among all religions of the world."

Methyl Alcohol Is Fatal To Three

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Methyl alcohol drunk at a weekend party caused the death of three men and a woman and made two other men seriously ill, detectives said Monday.

The dead were identified as Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Farrell, aged 50 and 49, in whose home the party was held; James Dobbins, 29, and John Brennan, 36, all of Philadelphia.

William Cook, 25, was taken to Einstein Medical Center by his wife. Detective William Hill said Cook was blind. Also admitted to the hospital was James Peak, 3.

Hill said the alcohol apparently was taken from a tank truck parked near the Farrell home.

SEEK AIRMAN IN THREE DEATHS

DICKINSON, Tex. (AP)—An all-points alert for a tall, young 190-pound airman officers believe may have killed three persons here continued today after a California lead proved no good.

Inglewood, Calif., police Sunday night discovered a car without license plates which they thought could be one believed driven by the suspect. But it proved to be an Inglewood-owned vehicle.

Found Shot To Death

The airman, described as about 25, is wanted for questioning in the slayings of Mrs. Ruby C. McPherson, 44; her son George Richard McPherson, 12; and Mrs. Zola Norman, about 65, the mother of Mrs. McPherson.

All were found shot to death Saturday night in the pine-shaded McPherson home near the traffic-heavy Houston-Galveston Gulf Freeway.

Mrs. McPherson's 1953 automobile was missing, but police said nothing apparently had been taken from the home, and Texas Ranger Johnny Klevenhagen said there was no evidence of a sex crime.

Local and state police both said they could find no motive for the slayings, believed to have occurred late Wednesday or early Thursday.

Before the U.S. network of natural gas lines was built, natural gas was largely a drug on the market which would be used effectively only near the source.

Also re-elected to a second term was the second vice president, Miss Helen P. Miller of Tremont.

Other officers elected at the federation's annual convention which ended Sunday, are:

Mrs. Isabella J. Jones of Pittsburgh, first vice president; Miss Alice Coyer, Grove City, recording secretary, and Miss Lillian C. Cadwallader, Titusville, treasurer.

Chosen as delegates to the northeast regional conference at Manchester, N. H., Sept. 22-25 were:

The U.N. Food and Agriculture Organization says the most serious nutritional problem in the world today is the critically low amounts of protein in the diet of a large part of the world's population.

Reds Sentence 9 Agents To Death

HONG KONG, (AP)—Nine "Chiang Kai-shek agents" have been sentenced to death on charges of spying and sabotage in Shantung and Shansi provinces, the official Communist New China News Agency reported Monday from Peiping.

Death sentences given 14 other were suspended for two years, or commuted to imprisonment ranging up to life.

The Reds charged the group of 23 passed on military, political and economic information to a Nationalist espionage organization in Hong Kong.

The report said the group organized armed units to prepare for the taking over of China's industrial and mining enterprises in coordination with the "U.S. armed invasion of Korea." Egypt has a population of 22,221,000.

RUSSIA SEEKS TO WEAKEN FOE BY "SOFT SOAP"

By JAMES MARLOW
WASHINGTON (AP) — Guessing why the Russians have changed from growl to grin has become a kind of international parlor game which anyone can play, with or without facts. A little wishful thinking helps.

Latest guesser is Gen. Carlos P. Romulo of the Philippines. At the United Nations' anniversary in San Francisco last week, during a television interview, he said: The Kremlin leaders are having trouble among themselves and want a breather.

This was hardly an original contribution. It's a guess that's made whenever there's a major change in Moscow, like the demotion of Georgi Malenkov from the premiership. There has been no evidence to support it, then or later. There's been no breakup.

The Russians themselves have given a more plausible reason, without saying so for their sudden air of sweet reasonableness. Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov pointed to it again in San Francisco.

The Russians want the West to disarm.

For years in one way or another, mostly a tough way, they have desperately tried to break up the Western Alliance, prevent West Germany's rearmament and discourage the building of American air bases in friendly countries around Russia.

They failed in all three. The last great hope they had was to keep West Germany disarmed. It was only after the Allies gave Germany the go-ahead—this year—that the Russians changed their attitude. They've been pleasant ever since.

Nothing more could be accomplished by threats or toughness. They couldn't lose by a twist in

Seek To Sell Beer In Baseball Parks

HARRISBURG (AP)—New legislation to permit the issuance of beer licenses in major league baseball parks in Pennsylvania is before the Senate again.

Under the bill introduced yesterday with bipartisan sponsorship, the licenses would be issued by the state Liquor Control Board upon acceptance of the applicant and payment of a $25 fee.

Eligible to apply would be the owner, lessee or concessionaire in any baseball park with a seating capacity of 35,000 or more. This would apply solely to Philadelphia and Pittsburgh.

Sponsors of the measure are Sens. Dent, (D—Westmoreland), Weiner (D—Phila.) and Watson (R—Bucks).

Similar bills in past Legislature sessions have failed to get beyond the committee stage.

tactics. Indeed, they might accomplish more with sounds of peace than they ever achieved with belligerency.

Molotov spelled out precisely what the Russians want: the American air bases dismantled, the Western Alliance broken up and the Allies to disarm. Since the West is realistic, the Russian desire bears a price tag.

The Allies, knowing that once their alliance was broken up and they had disarmed they might never again be a match for Russia, would need some iron guarantees that Russia would disarm to the point where it couldn't be a menace.

Molotov talked of Russian willingness to disarm and prohibit the use of atomic weapons. This sounds like a tremendous concession by Russia. The test of its earnestness lies ahead.

The Russians and the West have been dickering for years about disarmament but the Russians haven't yet been willing to agree to the Allies' idea of a disarmament system which would let each side check thoroughly on the other to be sure.

SEEK LARGE CAMPUS

HARRISBURG (AP)—The campus of Lock Haven State Teachers College would be enlarged considerably under new legislation to purchase additional ground.

The Senate received two bills last night to appropriate $8,600 to buy an additional 62-acre tract and another $10,200 for the purchase of two smaller tracts totaling 242 acres all in Lock Haven.

Sponsor of the bill is Sen. Steven son (D—Clinton).

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Sixteen-year-old Frank Ventura of Norristown High School packed together eight pars and a birdie on the final nine yesterday to post a one over par 37-35-72 for medal honors in the qualifying round of the Philadelphia Junior Golf Championship at St. David's golf course.

The team title went to St. David's for the second consecutive year with a total score of 324.
